Perhaps no opera is closely and affectionately associated with a single house as Le nozze di Figaro is with Glyndebourne. Effortlessly witty yet shot through with pain and sadness, this deeply ambivalent life in the day of masters and servants as they scheme and outwit one another was Glyndebourne's opening production in 1934. Michael Grandage's staging is the seventh, set in a louche Sixties ambience. Marshallled by the 'ideal pacing' of Robin Ticciati, a youthful cast of principals has 'no weak link' and 'looks gorgeous' (The Sunday Times) in a production that continues Glyndebourne's rewarding history of engagement with Mozart's and da Ponte's 'day of madness'.

- Glyndebourne's "signature" work, Le nozze di Figaro was the opening production when the theatre re-opened in 1994.
- The production is set the 1960s/70s.
- Extra features include: 'The Greatest Opera Ever Written' and 'From page to stage'.

What the press said:

“... this is a Figaro of rare grace, naturalness and charm... Sally Matthews sings the Countess's arias with perfect poise, while Lydia Teuscher makes a delightfully practical Susanna...The rest of the cast is terrific, and the whole thing moves like lightning. Pure joy.” The Daily Telegraph
